Happy New Year from Jen

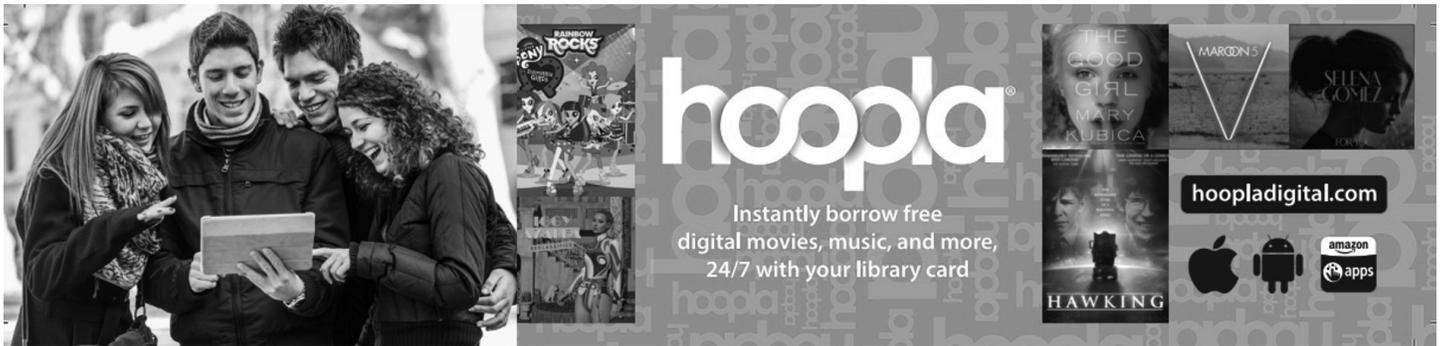

Whether or not you make New Year's resolutions, the start of the year is a chance to turn the page and start a new chapter in your own personal story.

I believe in the power of stories. They can inspire, educate, entertain, inform, and increase understanding. A story can help us understand not only others, but ourselves. Stories make us better, and sharing stories makes a community stronger.

Libraries hold stories, and not just the stories contained within the pages of books. They also hold the stories of their patrons and their staff. By sharing these stories, we become a stronger and more vibrant Manlius. As we share the library's stories with you, we ask that you share your stories with us. We want to know you better, and in doing so, hope to serve you and your neighbors better.

I am excited for 2017, a new year, a chance for new connections, with every day a chance for new stories. — Jennifer Milligan, Library Director

"Their story, yours and mine -- it's what we all carry with us on this trip we take, and we owe it to each other to respect our stories and learn from them." — William Carlos Williams
